

Connecting Researchers, Advancing Scholarship

WFRN Summer 2015 Newsletter

WFRN Conference Scheduled for June 23-25, 2016 in Washington D.C. The Call for Papers for the 2016 conference will be coming out in July, and the deadline for submissions will be in November 2015. Click here to read more about President Phyllis Moen's plans for the 2016 WFRN Conference.

WFRN's New Special Interest Groups (SIGs). WFRN has launched twelve new Special Interest Groups. Click here for a list of active SIGs and more about this exciting new WFRN initiative.

Early Career Fellowship Program. The Call for Applications for the 2016 Early Career Fellowship Program can be found here. The deadline for applications is September 15, 2015.

Community, Work and Family Conference in Sweden. Jean-Charles Languilaire reflects on the sixth CW&F conference in Malmö, Sweden and shares pictures. Read more...

Research Spotlight: Gender Bias Against Women of Color in Science. Read this informative interview with Joan Williams conducted by Lisa Levey. This is part of an ongoing research spotlight series developed by WFRN's Committee to Connect Research, Policy, and Practice.

Work and Family "MOOC" Reaches Thousands of Students Worldwide. Stew Friedman teaches the first online course on addressing work and family leadership. Read more...

Reminders:

- Renew your membership for 2015. WFRN depends on your financial support.
- Post News. The WFRN News Feed is easy to use to share news and announcements.
- Deposit research to the Work and Family Commons. Make your research accessible in this open-access format.

Thanks for all you do for WFRN!

Jerry Jacobs, WFRN Executive Officer